Beat Light Brass

Our Beat Light, recognised in homes, restaurants and hotels the world over, is now available in a solid brushed brass. Without a black or white finish Beat is left in its purest form – a warm golden brass both inside and out.

Hand spun from solid sheets of brass, the interior of each piece bears the beaten marks of its making. The plain brass exterior is then brushed to achieve a matt surface and finished with a clear lacquer.

Water carrying vessels provided the first inspiration for the shapes of these pendant lights which can be hung in numerous different configurations or as single pieces.
