Names. Very important. Ours was somewhat of a coincidence. Inspired by some friends, who in our opinion had come up with some very cool names for their companies, we wanted a name that was more like a sentence, or at least something with more than one word. Like a saying or a concept of sorts. What happened was, that the day we went out for lunch to talk about our name, we went to a small restaurant inside a Copenhagen park. As we we're sitting there, waiting for our food, we noticed the handwritten sign at the door saying Please wait to be seated. We had actually been looking at it for a while, talking about how cool it sounded, but without connecting it with the fact that we we're there to try and find a cool name that was a sentence, for our design studio, that makes furniture. And then we did. It's a great name.

SIROCCO chair.

The SIROCCO chair is inspired by the warm desert wind and the elegance and aerodynamics found in sleek sailing boats. The sculpted forms and sharp angles give a sense of dynamic forward movement combined with seamless transitions between the sections that mirrors the fluidity of sailing on the open sea.

With the SIROCCO creation, the Ortega-Guijarro Studio captures a timeless grace with a new contemporary design feel, perfect for meeting rooms, restaurants and private homes.

FLAX STACKER chair.

The FLAX STACKER started out as an experiment. We care for responsible design as much as anyone and do our absolute best to create our designs, using the best practices and most sustainable methods out there. This time, we took a stab at reinventing the classic shell chair using biodegradable materials, and it worked out great.

Made from a composite of flax fibers and PLA resin, the FLAX STACKER has a raw look and soft warm feel. The seat and backrest are attached to a steel frame with rivets, allowing them to be separated from the frame and replaced in case of damage. Lightweight, stackable and very durable, it is a practical solution for both residential and commercial interiors. And a unique

Designed by Fräg Woodall, the BONDI Chair draws inspiration from the iconic Bondi Beach in his hometown of Sydney. Its curved back mirrors the movement of the waves, while the precise form reflects Woodall's fascination with woodworking and the art of seamlessly merging wood. Fresh and full of character, the BONDI Chair combines a playful aesthetic with functional design. ## DOSINA chair collection.

Inspired by the ethereal beauty of the DOSINIA clam shell, the natural elegance of the DOSINA chair creates a calming atmosphere, whether in the dining room or meeting room. Indulge in simplicity with DOSINA's clean oak veneer shell and powder-coated steel frame.

Well-proportioned bar stools for the kitchen island or office workstation will perfect a cohesive aesthetic expression. Multiple variations ensure that DOSINA easily adapts to the size and design of the room and of the table which it complements.

Signifying serious business, armchairs add a touch of formality to the interior design. Leather seats constitute a textural contrast to smooth oak. Facilitating the need for extra chairs all DOSINA styles are stackable.

MAIDEN chair.

The MAIDEN Chair is all about the pure and simple beauty of uncompromised craftsmanship. We fell in love with it at first sight. Korean Designer Hwi, founder of the award-winning STUDIO PESI, wanted to work with the basics of designing a comfortable, highly crafted chair and display how simple it can be done. Which is hard, of course.

Hwi's priority is comfort within design, and his philosophy is perfectly executed in the MAIDEN Chair. The way the architectural grip of the square back turns into beautiful and comfortable armrests is a unique and clever detail, like a symbol of two cultures meeting within one contemporary design. Made from solid ash wood that will last for generations, this chair is here to stay. We are honestly thrilled and honored to house this design within the PLEASE WAIT to be SEATED collection.

AHM chair.

Light, elegant, stackable, practical. The AHM chair, designed by Isabel Ahm, brings a contemporary twist to the simplicity of early-'50s Danish design. The sleek profile is shaped from three interlocking pieces of natural ash wood, in a harmonious blend of straight lines and soft curves, adding both aesthetic and ergonomic benefits.

Available in a range of colors, the chair features either a classic woven cane seat or an upholstered leather or fabric option. With its refined silhouette and smooth finish, the AHM chair elevates any setting at home, in a restaurant, café, or corporate space.

SPADE chair.

The SPADE chair is inspired by rural life in the English countryside, where designer Faye Toogood grew up. The chair draws inspiration from a blend of the traditional milking stool and the handle of a spade, creating a strong icon with references to the past, present, and future. Use it to pile towels in the bathroom, unlace muddy boots in the hallway, as a dining chair or simply a minimalist artwork in the living room.

TRUE COLORS.」

We've never labelled ourselves with Scandinavian design. Sorry not sorry. The reason is that we don't want to hang our hats on the idea that we're good because Scandinavian design is inherently good - and having to only work within that idea. What makes us special, is our ability to channel the creativity and craftsmanship of different people and to merge styles, design philosophies and materials from all over the world. So instead of identifying our designs through a certain genre or a process that connects is all, we have created eight original colors, that we use across everything we do. These seven colors create a clear visual connection, like a family with similar features but different faces, that complement each other as well as working independently on their own; As colors on furniture, playful combinations in a series of designs, base colors in woven patterns, backgrounds in our showroom or even graphic elements in this very magazine.

TUBBY TUBE table.

Designer Faye Toogood has an eye for removing clutter and simplifying form and the TUBBY TUBE Table features clear, no-nonsense lines and a sturdy frame. Her sculpted designs celebrate the rural past, and the fusion of traditional and contemporary design is clear in how the sleek tabletop appears to float above the subtly rounded black steel or raw aluminum frames. Equipped with adjustable feet to level uneven floors, the TUBBY TUBE Table is a distinctive and enduring artifact that would suit your dining room or your meeting room equally well.

TAFFEL table.

TAFFEL is a collection of tables with integrated extension plates that quickly and easily provides comfortable seating for a larger gathering. The tabletop crafted from plywood and linoleum include sustainable and organic materials in modern interior design. With its industrial edge of clean dimensions and stringent lines, the TAFFEL collection is a nod to the traditions of architectural functionalism. The light and slender table has a width of only 90 cm, making it suitable for smaller spaces or as a desk. The higher version is an ideal workstation or even as a room divider and meeting table in open space offices.

SAVOYE coffee table.

As a merge of strict minimalism and Danish coziness, the SAVOYE table is ideal as a coffee table, side table, or even a nightstand, and will give any room a sense of natural elegance. Inspired by the breathtaking Villa SAVOYE, the SAVOYE table combines beauty with modern functionality and modularity that invites creative combinations between sizes, heights, shapes, colors and materials. The tabletop is available in solid oak of different hues and the light and clear-lined frame is crafted from powder-coated aluminum.

KANSO coffee and tray.

KANSO is one of the seven pillars of Zen Buddhist wisdom, viewing simplicity as the essence of enlightened living. The KANSO Coffee table, designed by Laura Bilde, reflects this philosophy with its understated metal frame and stained ash wood trays. Easy to fit together, it's a sturdy yet elegant expression of sculptural form and no-nonsense function. The table works as a stand-alone piece or practical side table, while the trays can be rearranged for fresh configurations or used separately for serving, displaying dishes, or showcasing flowers.

TRIPTYCH nesting tables.

A table within a table within a table. TRIPTYCH nesting tables are like a babushka doll in a set of three tables, each a different size, designed to stack neatly under one another, offering an elegant and space-saving solution. The lightweight steel frame, shaped in a sleek N silhouette, contrasts beautifully with the natural marble tabletops, each featuring its own unique pattern and color. The name "TRIPTYCH" comes from the art world, where it refers to a three-part work of art. Use the tables as a set or individually to create flexible layouts and make room for extra guests.

DESIGNED TO STAY AROUND.

We care for responsible design as much as anyone, and do our absolute best to create our designs, using the best practices and most sustainable methods out there. Still, our best shot at calling ourselves responsible, is the fact that all our designs are made to last for a very long time. This is not only a matter of quality and craftsmanship, but also in how we strive to create meaningful designs, that add character to their surroundings while still being relevant when those surroundings, or the world changes. Some call that timelessness, but that is a bit too close to boring to really fit our collection. That's why we just say that everything we do is designed to stay around.

MEGUMI pendant.

True story. Once Thomas was lost in the backstreets of Tokyo, he asked a young Japanese woman for directions. She introduced herself as MEGUMI and their random meeting turned into a friendship that lasts to this day. The glass pendant collection is dedicated to Thomas' friend and all other open-minded and helpful people around the world. It is also a subtle nod to the aesthetics of Japanese hanging lamps.

MEGUMI means "blessing" or "favour" and the mouth-blown MEGUMI pendant collection adds a fresh, contemporary touch to traditional light design. The two shades create a drop and cast an ambient, diffuse lighting for any corridor, kitchen or office space that needs a main but softened light source.

PODGY pendant.

Inspired by a photographer's light equipment, Krøyer-Sætter-Lassen has crafted the PODGY Pendant to provide precise, functional illumination for everyday use. The honeycomb aluminum structure at the heart of the lamp, creates a soft, diffuse glow while also directing light exactly where needed, echoing the techniques used in photo studios. The spherical dimmer on top allows you to adjust both the intensity and character of the light, offering a playful, interactive experience that changes the lamp's appearance and the atmosphere it creates.

TUBBY TUBE linear pendant.

The new TUBBY TUBE linear pendant is made from a hollow aluminium extrusion and hangs suspended from the ceiling. The tube's empty cavity is lit up with integrated LED lights and reflects the light downwards. It features an elegantly built-in touch dimmer on the suspended wire and a system to dim groups of lights at once.

TUBBY TUBE design pieces stand out with characteristic clean lines, made by frameworks of sturdy tubular metal with an interlocking connection system. Shapes mimicking these interlocking connections is a theme throughout the installation, serving as showcase frames as well as large abstract sculptures.

PROXIMA pendant.

Sharing its name with our next-nearest star (Proxima Centauri), this hanging globe gives an ambient and diffuse all-round lighting. The light from the PROXIMA pendant is filtered through hundreds (we haven't counted) of apertures which angle the light in all directions, creating a soft radiance that adds intimacy to your space. Made from a flat, bended-steel sheet and delivered as a flat pack, the simple shape and lightweight construction materials makes PROXIMA quick and easy to assemble. While the desk lamp has preserved its essence, it has been slightly challenged to shake things up a bit.
