A New Palette to Atlas Stool

A new palette of colours with high-gloss finishes and a softer silhouette brings a fresh dimension to the Atlas collection. While preserving its sculptural character and bold geometric language, the latest additions introduce a more nuanced and refined expression. Through colour, reflection, and a softer form, Atlas takes on a renewed sense of depth and materiality.

A classic shape reimagined through colour and high-gloss lacquer, the Atlas Stool collection extends the original design with new forms and finishes. Defined by offset legs and generous silhouettes, the collection interweaves the circle and square through both the original four-legged form and a softer, rounded variation with three legs and a circular seat.

Available in Espresso, Burgundy, and Crème, the Atlas Stool works equally well as a stool or side table for your everyday treasures. The lacquered finish brings depth and reflection to the form, lending the collection a more vivid presence.

About the Designer

The studio of John Astbury was founded in 2014 and is based in Stockholm, Sweden. After previously studying anthropology in England, John Astbury completed studies in design at Konstfack, college of Arts, and Crafts in 2011. Building from archetypes, his work reduces the object to its fundamentals, exposing material, structure and form. A language of absolute simplicity while making visible the dialogues and symbols that surround the object.

About New Works

New Works presents a collection at the intersection between old and new. Light and dark. Design and art. Our work pays homage to the strong Scandinavian history of craftsmanship and materiality, whilst challenging the contemporary forms of today. We collaborate with an international group of renowned designers and artisans, who display a matching fascination with sculptural forms and honest materials. These collaborative pursuits convey our love of the sensual, and of the bold.
